

1. Introduction

There are many competing demands on police resources and it is important to recognise that meeting those demands often has significant cost implications. In the current financial climate it is essential that income as well as cost control is considered so that we can properly balance resources and make appropriate decisions on when and what to charge for. This document outlines the circumstances when charges should be levied and is consistent with the NPCC guidance on “Charging for Police Services” which is reviewed and published annually.

The policy applies to all individuals, managers and supervisors within Lancashire Constabulary.

2. Aims

The ability to charge for police services is generally determined by statutory provisions. This guidance covers four main areas:

- A. The provision of Special Police Services at the request of any person under Section 25 of the Police Act 1996 which makes such services subject to payment of charges as determined by the Police and Crime Commissioner and/or delegated to the Chief Constable. Special Police Services generally relate to policing an event, e.g. football match, a pop concert, or series of events.

Section 26 of the 1996 Act applies similar requirements to the provision of police services overseas.

- B. The provision of Mutual Aid to other forces under Section 24 of the Police Act 1996
- C. Section 15 of the Police Reform and Social Responsibility Act 2011 extends to Police and Crime Commissioners powers of the Local Authorities (Goods and Services) Act 1970 to supply goods and services to other bodies or persons. This may include services provided in competition with other providers, e.g. training or vehicle maintenance, where charges will reflect market rates, or services as a by-product of core police activity such as provision of collision reports.
- D. The provision of police services to other agencies such as the UK Border Agency or the prison service

A. S25/S26 Hourly Rates

The hourly rates shown in Table 1 have been calculated based on the guidance outlined above and are effective from 1st August 2018. For comparison purposes previous charges are also provided.

The methodology for calculating the appropriate hourly rate for police officers and staff is outlined below:-

- Determine actual Force average pay by rank.
There is then a separate calculation for direct costs, direct overheads and indirect overheads that equates to the full economic cost.
- Direct costs are the employable costs of a post (i.e. basic pay, employer's national insurance and pension/superannuation contribution and any other allowances) plus a fixed overtime premium of 50%.
- Direct overheads are taken directly from the budget and include uniforms, communications, transport and training.
- The indirect overhead rate has been set nationally at 30% of the sum of the direct overheads plus direct costs (excluding the overtime premium).
- This results in an annualised charge for each rank/grade
- The effective hours for each rank/grade have been set at a standard annual rate of 1508 hours. (This is the total hours less annual leave, bank holidays, sickness and training hours).
- The annualised charge is divided by the effective hours to provide the chargeable hourly rate specified in the table below

Table 1: Section 25/26 Charges
(Review date - August 2019)

CHARGE TYPE	Previous Force Charge August 2017	Force charge from August 2018	Increase
	Cost per hour	Cost per hour
Chief Superintendent	£110.44	£112.40	1.7%
Superintendent	£97.36	£97.52	0.02%
Chief Inspector	£76.36	£78.68	3 %
Inspector	£72.00	£74.20	3 %
Sergeant	£74.24	£76.72	3.2%
Constable	£63.12	£65.00	2.9%
PSCO	£44.80	£42.06	-6.5%
Support Staff(Communications Operator)	£45.44	£46.99	3.3%

Charging under section 25 needs to distinguish between different categories of event: commercial events (intended to generate private profit), non-commercial events (charitable or community events) and statutory events (reflecting constitutional rights or processes).

The Guidance strongly recommends charging full economic costs of Special Police Services for commercial events. It is appropriate, however, to consider abating charges for non-commercial events. This is done by assessing and scoring events against a range of criteria; less than a score of 6 would mean no charge, 6-31 would give 50% abatement and 35+ would be subject to full cost recovery. The criteria applied within Lancashire are shown in Table 2.

Table 2: Section 25 charging criteria.

Criteria	Assessment	Range of Scores
Identified promoter	The existence of a promoter clearly identifies a commercial event. This can also be an organiser of a significant non-commercial event and can also be implied – e.g. for sports matches.	0 to 5
Premises Licence / Safety Certificate required	Most large defined events require a Premises Licence or a Safety Certificate to operate. Detail of the event capacity and the licensable activities are strong indicators of a significant event.	0 to 5
Stewards used	This also characterises a major event – but can also be the basis of a reduction in police input leading to reduced charges.	-5 to 0
Payment at event	A key determinant of a commercial event. It can also be a factor of a major non-commercial event.	0 to 10
Performers paid	Can also underline a commercial event or a major charitable / non-commercial event.	0 to 10
Trader concessions	A secondary indicator of the size of an event – one anticipating a large number of attendees.	0 to 10
Nature of the event	Commercial for profit, not commercial or a private event / function.	0 to 10
Proceeds to charity	This is an indicator of possible abatement, depending on other safety issues and the size of the event.	-5 to 0
Detrimental Community Impact	This is how a community will be affected by holding of the event such as increased traffic flow, disruption and disorder.	0 to 10
Community Value	This covers the reasons that an event should go ahead. An event that has strong traditions or promotes the values of community cohesion will have added community value.	-10 to 0
Additional policing	This can give an indication that significantly more policing than the norm is required.	0 to 10
Normal deployment	This would, in conjunction with the above, give an indication of the level of additional chargeable policing resources provided.	-5 to 0

B. Mutual Aid

Mutual Aid rates shown in table 3 for Police Officers have been set by NPCC to take into account regulations and also the issues around providing staff, backfilling and re-rostering of rest days when applicable and practical.

There are three Mutual Aid grades of deployment:

- Grade 0 – Bank Holiday
- Grade 1 – Reactive spontaneous deployment (15 days’ notice or less)
- Grade 2 – Planned event (16 days’ notice or more)

When the deployment is delivered by way of an attachment, the providing force can recover pension costs in addition to basic pay and NI.

Charging for Special Constables is static and always charged at 50% of the rate for a Grade 2 Police Constable.

For Police Staff, actual employable costs (excluding pension) are charged for the individual used by the providing force. Where overtime is paid on deployment, it can be recovered.

5% Administration fee is added to all charges.

Table 3: Mutual Aid Police Officers
(Review date April 2019)

	Constable	Sergeant	Inspector	Ch. Inspector	Supt
Standard Deployment	£	£	£	£	£
Grade 0 hourly rate	47.03	60.88	47.93	51.36	64.42
Grade 1 hourly rate	35.27	45.66	47.93	51.36	64.42
Grade 2 hourly rate	31.27	40.48	47.93	51.36	64.42

Vehicle Costs

Vehicle costs can be added to the total charge. Daily rates for vehicles will be subject of an annual notification for any inflationary increase by NPCC FCC.

Fuel recovery will be charged at actual mileage travelled at the specified miles per litre rate that will be set by NPCC FCC and reviewed at appropriate periods.

The standard charges to be used are shown in Table 4. Mileage cost is based on actual fuel cost per litre.

The methodology for calculating the daily horse rate as shown in Table 4:

C. S15 Charges - Fees and Charges

As a minimum, charges should recover the costs of supplying the service. Where market conditions permit, charges could be levied up to full economic costs in order to contribute to overheads.

General Charges

Other discretionary charges are shown in Table 5 and are calculated in accordance with NPCC Guidance. Some are published rates whilst others allow Force discretion in recovering costs.

Learning and Development Charges

NOT PROTECTIVELY MARKED

External Fees and charges applicable to the Learning and Development Department are shown in table 6 below. Course costs have been calculated in line with the National Costing Model, as part of a pilot proof of concept study to feed into the HMIC Police Improvement Project, "Force Learning and Development Costing Comparison". There are just six Forces taking part in the HMIC pilot, including Lancashire. NB. The rationale behind the different charges applied to Home Office and Non-Home Office Forces is due to the introduction of a royalty fee payable to the College of Policing for the delivery of their licensed training materials to Non-Home Office personnel.

The National Costing Model methodology utilises data from the Constabulary's Annual Training Plan calculating four elements:

- Trainer Costs – Police Officer / Police Staff / Associate daily rate
- Direct Delivery Costs – e.g. Guest Speaker Costs and equipment purchased.
- Indirect Delivery Costs - e.g. Vehicles and Classrooms
- Management and Admin Costs – annual costs are apportioned to number of student and trainer days.

Training centre accommodation and meal costs are added for external students. Facility and accommodation charges are charged in line with market price ensuring the fee is competitive and realistic in line with similar establishments.

NDORS – National Driver Offender Retraining Scheme

NDORS is a scheme unique to the UK, where a motorist who has been caught committing, a minor traffic offence, e.g. speeding within the agreed thresholds or going through a red light etc. At the discretion of the local Chief Constable an offending motorist may be offered the opportunity to attend a course focusing on re-education designed to achieve greater compliance with Road Traffic legislation and road safety. If the motorist does not wish to accept a course offer they may accept a conditional offer of fixed penalty which, if an endorsable offence, will include penalty points on their Licence or they may elect a court hearing; for offences where no fixed penalty is available, for example driving without due care and attention, the matter will proceed to the Magistrates' Court.

Courses are nonprofit making and governed by the Road Safety Trust with fees covering central NDORS and local costs.
