Partner Consultation

Office of the Police and Crime Commissioner for Lancashire

The project is well-presented and timely, especially given current national concerns around online influencers and misogyny. Tom Hutton is recognised for having a strong track record in project delivery and partnership engagement.

Key points for consideration:

- Pol-Ed Integration: There's a good opportunity to incorporate Pol-Ed resources on relationships, social media, and misogyny. Once the partner side of Pol-Ed is live, First Kicks could be advised on relevant inputs.
- Partnership Clarity: More detail is needed on how project partners will actively support delivery throughout the programme.
- Sustainability: Further information is required on how the project will be sustained beyond initial funding, including staffing and long-term delivery plans.
