Project Name: Safer Christmas Campaign – Spiking Awareness and Education

Project Location & District: Haslingden, Rising Bridge, and Haslingden High School (Hyndburn Constituency)

Project Duration: 1 Month

Proposed Start Date: 1st December 2025

Commissioners Priorities:

- Tackling Violence Against Women and Girls (VAWG)
- Reducing street crime and anti-social behaviour
- Youth provision and diversionary activities
- Building trust in policing

Project Summary:

The campaign aims to raise awareness and reduce incidents of drink and needle spiking during the festive season. It responds to national and local data showing high levels of underreported spiking incidents, particularly affecting women and young people. The initiative will deliver education, prevention tools, and community engagement to improve safety and confidence in public spaces.

The project addresses the urgent and underreported issue of spiking in Rossendale, where anecdotal evidence from last year's launch revealed widespread personal accounts of incidents, despite the lack of official local data. National statistics from the NPCC show that 80% of spiking occurs in public venues, with bars and nightclubs being the most common locations, and women aged around 26 making up the majority of victims. In its first year, the project successfully distributed drink toppers through salons and shops, gaining strong community engagement and positive feedback, including from youth-focused organisations like Bacup Family Centre. Educational sessions at Haslingden High School focus on safety and reporting, not politics, and will be developed with expert input. Venue training is planned but pending funding, as are promotional materials aligned with Safer Rossendale branding. Engagement with schools may be enhanced through collaboration with PolEd, and safeguarding protocols are in place to support disclosures. Target audiences were identified using national data and insights from last year's delivery.
