

Job Description

Job Title: Legally Qualified Persons for Police Misconduct Hearings

Main Purpose of the role:

To assist panel members in coming to fair and evidence-based decisions about a particular officer's conduct and appropriate outcomes arising from those decisions.

To provide independent and impartial advice to such panels and to provide assurance to the community that conduct matters are treated seriously and that misconduct proceedings are being properly investigated and adjudicated.

To consider the impact of officer misconduct on public confidence in policing at all times, with specific attention to maintaining the public's trust in the police service's ability to keep them safe.

Main responsibilities:

- To attend and participate effectively as a legal advisor to the panel members in misconduct hearings as required.
- To prepare for such hearings by considering in advance relevant papers, reports and background information.
- To carefully consider all the evidence in the misconduct hearing and provide appropriate advice.
- To utilise training offered that is relevant to the role, and to take a proactive approach to considering what additional personal development would be appropriate.
- To keep abreast of general developments affecting policing, both locally and nationally, that may have an impact on misconduct hearings.
- To maintain the highest standards of professional conduct, ethics and the Nolan Principles.
